portant part in the educational system of the State, giving its students the benefit of the most modern facilities and the best teachers. Further, as has been suggested, this College is having an ultimate influence on the social life of the State. It is reclaiming the sick, the crippled, the disturbed, and making these helpless, hopeless, and unhappy outcasts into potential citizens.

This result is a natural outgrowth of the free clinics and hospital service fostered by the College of Medicine. But these results have been hastened by the awakening on the part of the State of the benefits accruing to it from normal citizens and the detraction by abnormal ones, with according provisions to improve the conditions of the latter class.

ROLL CALL

Since the University of Iowa established her College of Medicine she has sent her graduates—physicians and nurses—to all parts of the world. They are scattered in far away lands, Chile, Norway, Turkey, China, Japan, Hawaii, and in other foreign lands on their missions of mercy and health. The roll includes 2,097 doctors and 398 nurses. Of the former only 288 are reported as dead and of the latter only nine, although more than a quarter of a century has elapsed since the establishment of the first training school for nurses.

A large number of the alumni and former students of the College of Medicine took part in the World War, adding their bit either at home or abroad and in many cases rendering signal service. Today they are advancing to the front ranks of the profession and gaining distinction and reputation in practice and research.

MEDICAL CLINIC

Members of the profession all over the State and elsewhere will anticipate the annual medical clinic to be held at the University for two days, April 11 and 12.

Although too early to give the program in detail, it is being arranged and will soon be available. Those who wish further information should address inquiries to Dr. L. W. Dean or Dr. J. T. McClintock.

LISTENING IN

Next best thing to being present at the Jubilee program on February 25 was "listening in." This gentle art of the radio telephone allowed the busy downtown alumni to hear the program in their office rather than not at all. Some even enjoyed an automobile ride from Iowa City to Coralville with the Jubilee thrown in. Such at least was the experience of Charles Secrest, '09 A.S., owner of the Buick garage in Iowa City, and a friend, George Weller. Together they arranged the wires and the receiver in the car and were off. They "listened in" all the way to Coralville and beyond, hearing all the speeches distinctly as they sped along the River-to-River road.

We do not know just how many heard the Jubilee exercises in absentia. Various reports have been received from alumni and others as far away as Wisconsin. No doubt a number took advantage of this medium to come back. We should like to hear from them.

REUNIONS

How about that New Year's resolution? You surely made several and one was to come back to your reunion in June. Now's the time to write to your classmates.

Commencement is from June 4-6, and plans must be made soon. Letters already received promise a good attendance. Summons to reunions will appear in the April number of the ALUMNUS, and copy should be in the hands of the editor by March 25. Lists of your classmates will be sent you upon application to the office of the Association, and every assistance will be given to help classes having reunions perfect their plans. Begin work at once.
